MacMillan will chair Campbell Co. board

Pacific Business News (Honolulu) - 4:13 PM HAST Friday

The head of the James Campbell Estate will become chairman of the board of directors of the private real estate company that will succeed the estate early next year.

The estate is set to transition to the James Campbell Co. in January when the estate's assets are distributed according to Campbell's will, under the guidance of the seven-member board of directors.

Campbell Estate CEO Stephen H. MacMillan will be chairman of the board initially, when the directors' terms begin on Jan. 22. Current trustee Richard W. Gushman and former Director of Trust Affairs Ronald M. Plumb also were named to the board.

"While the transition involves many changes, we expect that it will be largely seamless for our tenants, associates and the communities we serve," MacMillan said.

The four other members are David R. Andrews, a former PepsiCo executive who is currently senior fellow for corporate governance at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D.C.; Linda Assante, principal at The Townsend Group, a real estate investment advisory services firm; W. David P. Carey III, CEO and president of Honolulu-based Outrigger Enterprises Group; and T. Michael May, president and CEO of Hawaiian Electric Co.
