

Campbell Estate CEO honored

Stephen MacMillan, chief executive officer of the Estate of James Campbell, was one of four honorees at the Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center's first major fund-raiser recently at Lanikuhonua in Ko Olina.

MacMillan was honored for his work on the health center's board of directors, and for the support of the James and Abigail Campbell Foundation in funding the James and Abigail Campbell Clinic in Nanakuli and the pediatric floor of the soon-to-be-built three-story medical building.

Steve MacMillan

Other honorees were U.S. Sen. Daniel Inouye, health center founder Chuck Wothke and William Wilson, president of Hawaiian Dredging.

The event, called "A Tribute to the Spirit of Community," drew 800 attendees and raised $250,000 for the health center.